

United Nations Environment Programme

Topic: Climate Change

Co-Sponsors: Republic of Turkey, Federative Republic of Brazil, Republic of Costa Rica, Russian Federation, Republic of Ecuador, United Arab Emirates, Republic of Kenya, Burkina Faso, Republic of Rwanda, Federal republic of Germany, Republic of Ghana, Republic of Argentina,

People's republic of China, Republic of South Africa, Republic of Nicaragua, Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela, Federal Democratic Republic of Ethiopia, Republic of Italy, Kingdom of Spain, Canada, Republic of Poland, Plurinational state of Bolivia, United States of America, Kingdom of Norway, Republic of Kazakhstan, People's Republic of Bangladesh, Republic of Haiti and Republic of Azerbaijan.

Climate Change is one of the most vicious challenges humanity is currently facing. It destroys homes, kills people through natural disasters, floods cities, and much more. Most people in poor or under-privileged countries do not have access to strong protection to these issues. The United Nations Environmental Program is working to prevent this prejudicial and dangerous event.

Knowing that Climate Change causes more than 10,000 deaths per year, and destroys families homes,

Believing that if we all work together, we can fix this problem,

Realizing that if we don't attempt to fix it soon, it will get worse,

Observing that Climate Change has a big effect on everyone's life,

1. Calls upon all nations to donate money, and take action to help this problem;
2. Lowers taxes on hybrid and electric vehicles;
3. Raises taxes on gas vehicles;
4. Attempts to build public transportation that use renewable energy;
5. Builds Storm Shelters in poor and un-developed areas;
6. Decreases use of fossil fuels;
7. Discourages the excessive use of energy;
8. Encourages the use of renewable energy in homes;
9. Suggests that developed countries create Global Partnerships with the un-developed and poor countries; and
10. Suggests that countries promote abstinence deforestation and forest regeneration.