

United Nations Security Council

Topic: Situation in Syria

Co-Sponsors: Rwanda, Australia, United States, Chad, China, Russia, Chile, France, Jordan, Argentina, Azerbaijan, and the United Kingdom, and Korea

The Security Council, taking note of past failure to follow through on resolutions,
Deeply concerned that humanitarian aid workers are not able to access internally displaced civilians,
Fully believing in the UN Special Envoy to Syria Staffan de Mistura's actions in negotiating temporary freeze zones, especially in Aleppo,
Deeply convinced that humanitarian aid workers should be able to access internally displaced civilians as well as refugees,
Alarmed by the growth of terrorist organizations,
Deeply disturbed by the war crimes being committed in Syria,
Viewing with appreciation the progress in the removal of chemical weapons,
Reaffirming the Security Council's commitment to delivering aid within Syria,

1. Accepts that aiding the Syrian people will require sufficient funding;
2. Calls upon all sides to enter negotiations without preconditions;
3. Draws attention towards the despicable acts of growing amount of terrorist organizations occurring within Syria that include war crimes, crimes against humanity and even genocide;
4. Recommends the support of the Syrian Sunrise Foundation and other organizations supporting the displaced civilians of the crisis;
5. Requests the Syrian government to authorize the use of United Nations peacekeepers to protect civilians and deliver aid to those afflicted;

Resolution UNSC/1.1

6. Further recommends moderate rebels and the Syrian government to negotiate peaceful resolutions without preconditions;
7. Strongly supports the current actions of the UN Special Envoy to Syria in negotiating freeze zones;
8. Recommends the release of political war prisoners;
9. Demands the Syrian government and moderate rebels to cease combat with rebels and transition to a Democratic government that represents the Syrian people;
10. Recommends the placement of UN peacekeepers in freeze zones as well as aid convoys;
11. Strongly recommends a fair public vote for citizens of Syria;
12. Stresses the importance of holding all parties accountable for their actions;
13. Recommends that if parts of Syria are stabilized refugees should be able to reenter their country;
14. Encourages all nations to refrain from influencing the conflict with military aid including those supporting both the government and the rebel groups;
15. Strongly advises outside countries to allow refugees to seek asylum in their countries; and
16. Demands that all parties cease and refuse all violations of international humanitarian law.