Times Square Food Guide 2019

Dear Teacher Coordinators,

When attending the NYC MMUN conference, the meal options can seem overwhelming – especially with large delegations and limited times for eating. Therefore, we have pulled together a laundry list of restaurants and cafés in the vicinity with different options for price, distance (their location is provided on the map below), opening hours, dietary restrictions, and types of cuisine.

Some of these restaurants offer the possibility to order online, while others require a reservation. Consequently, we highly recommend planning your meals in advance in order to ensure your prompt return to the conference.

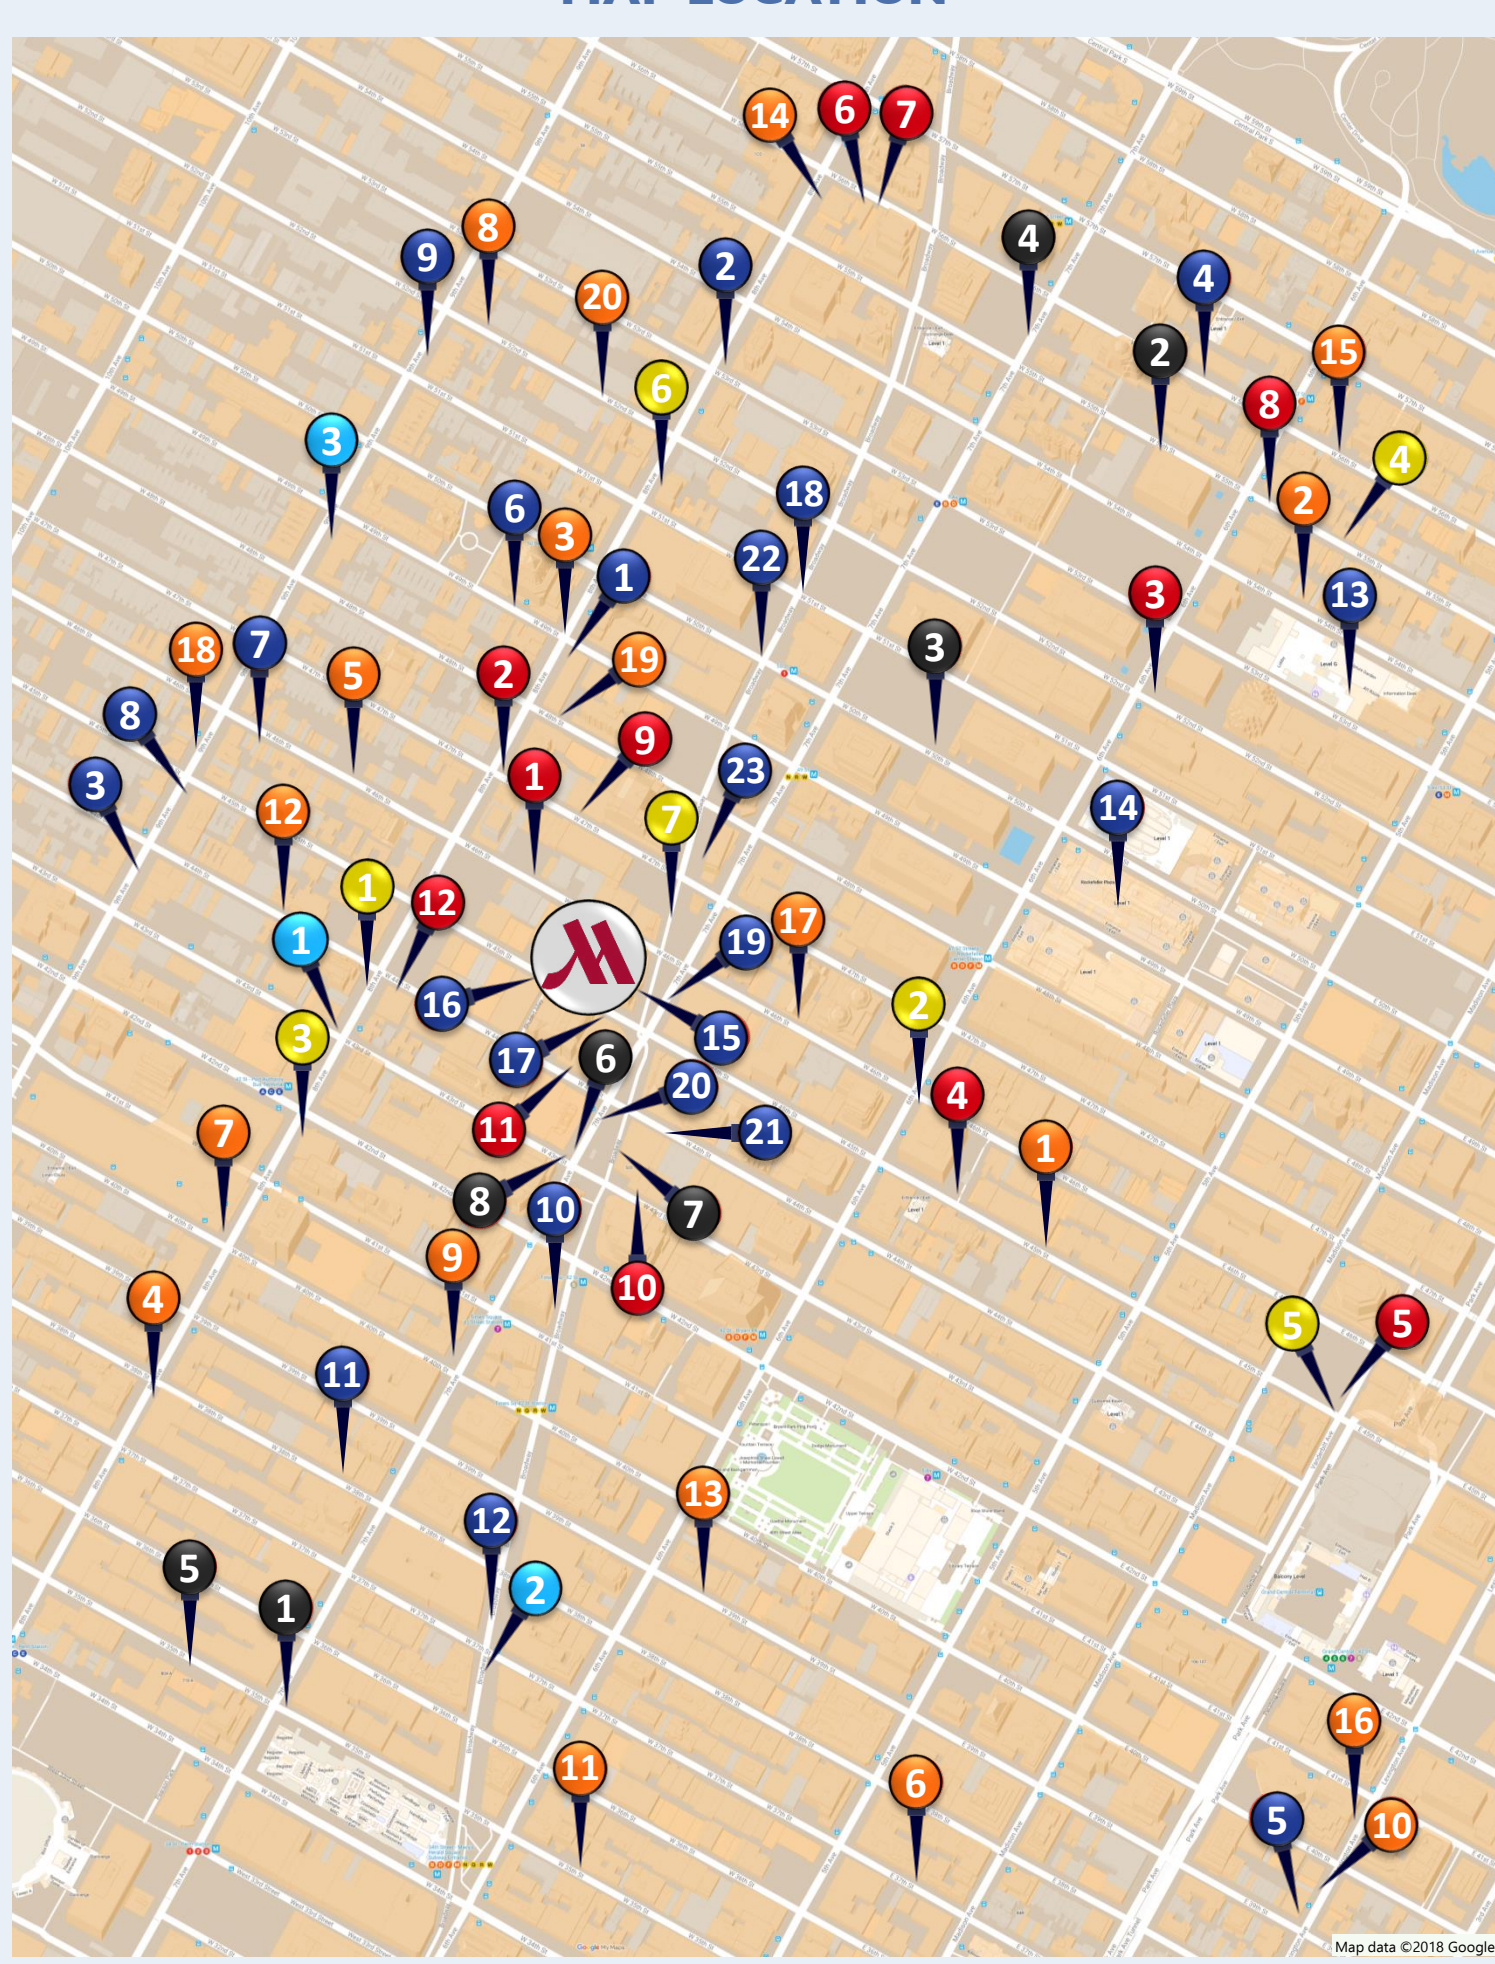

When considering take-away options, please keep in mind that it is strictly forbidden to eat in committee rooms or in the hotel hallways.

You must either eat in your room or outside of the hotel.

Some examples of reviews of different restaurants in the area include:
